GREEN is not defined as just a color. GREEN, is also a new way to define sustainability for the environment. In the coatings industry, the word GREEN can have various meanings. Greenguard, LEED, and BIFMA have specific requirements in order to meet their definition of GREEN. The following presentation will summarize the necessary requirements that comply with each organization.

SPEAKER: DANY COTE

Dany Cote is currently employed by the largest coatings company in the world, Akzo Nobel. He is the technical director for the distribution of wood coatings, as well as group leader of the Laboratory, located in High Point, North Carolina. Dany graduated with a degree in chemistry from Sherbrooke University, Quebec, Canada in 1992. With more than eighteen years of experience in wood coatings, Dany Cote is well known as a leader in the industry.
